

Sebay Mill in the Press

The Orcadian

The refurbished ruins of Sebay Mill in Tankerness have attracted a world class grading by VisitScotland - the first self catering accommodation north of Ardgay in Sutherland to be awarded five-star status.

Maureen Brown, of Orkney Tourist Board, said they were delighted with the exceptional award, which could only add to Orkney's growing reputation as a visitor attraction.

"We are delighted for Billy because he has put such a lot of effort and financial support into the project. It is great that he has got the award that he deserves," she said.
